A number 1 vote for Joe Higgins TD
SOCIALIST PARTY

You can send the political establishment a blunt message in this Euro election.

Politicians in planning corruption scandals ... big business cheating on their taxes... banks on the fiddle with off-shore accounts ... profiteering in homes ...

Litir Um Thoghcan

Don't let them bring back water charges

The EU Commission wants them back. The OECD wants them back. The Dublin Chamber of Commerce wants them back.
PAYE workers do not.
Now there is also talk about a tax on people's homes.
Joe Higgins TD spearheaded the Dublin Anti Water Charges Campaign from 1994 to 1997. Together with thousands of householders he forced the Government to abolish the hated water tax, against the whole of the political establishment, Fianna Fail, Fine Gael, the PD's and Labour.
Send the message to the same political establishment...

No going back to double tax: No home tax

A workers' Europe or a club for the rich?

Since its inception, the EU has been geared primarily to serve the interests of big business, the multi-nationals, and the super rich. The main political parties are funded by these interests. No wonder allegations of corruption, fraud and sleaze brought down the EU Commission.
Joe Higgins and the Socialist Party stand for a Europe where ordinary working people have democratic ownership and control over the main wealth and can come together across national frontiers to plan their economies to meet human need as opposed to multi-national greed.

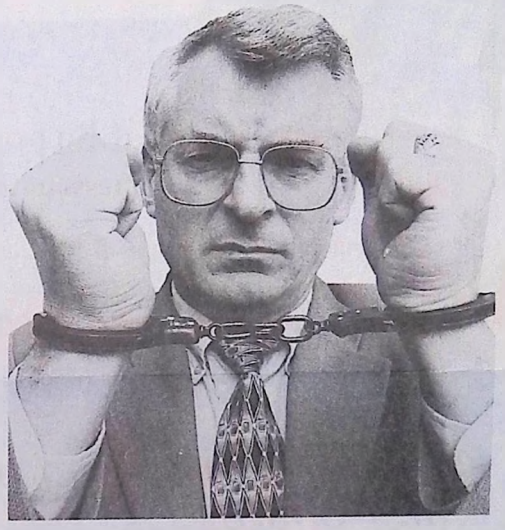
Euro Election Friday June 11th

Joe Higgins TD

Fighting the Political Establishment



Joe Higgins TD is standing in the European Election to give ordinary people the opportunity to vote for a real fighter against the discredited political establishment.
Joe Higgins has been a TD in Dail Eireann for two years, a councillor for eight years and a tireless campaigner for working class people for 25 years.
Every vote for him is a protest against the political and big business establishment.

Joe Higgins stands for:

- Opposition to military alliances and arms dealing cartels.
For a referendum on Ireland joining the so called 'Partnership For Peace'.
- Protection of public enterprises.
Opposition to the sale of Aer Lingus, Aer Rianta and other semi-state companies.
- A Europe wide ban on genetically modified crops and food being pushed by multi-nationals for profit.
- Comprehensive health care for all citizens.
End the suffering on hospital waiting lists. End discrimination against those with disabilities.
- The outlawing of speculation in building land and profiteering in the housing market.
Emergency investment to provide homes for all.
- Major investment in public transport to end Dublin's traffic nightmare.

Living on a worker's wage

Joe Higgins lives on the wage of an ordinary worker. Since his election to the Dail he has donated £32,000 to the Socialist Party, the legal defence fund of the Anti Water Charges Campaign and a wide range of community campaigns.
If elected all of Joe Higgins' wage as an MEP will be donated to the fight for a new society.

Oct 22nd 1998... Showing up hypocrisy in the Dail

The Dail was in uproar. Joe Higgins raised his hands in handcuffs, protesting against the jailing of two building workers.
Joe Higgins said "workers get thrown in jail over a campaign for safety on building sites, to be able to work on PAYE and stop contractors forcing them to work in the black economy.
Bankers and millionaires get an amnesty for cheating on their taxes.
This is the hypocrisy that the right wing political parties stand for."

What the press said.....

" One TD did stand out. Despite the best efforts..... to stifle his contributions, Joe Higgins has brought a sense of indignation to this place not seen since the days of Noel Browne.... he is the opposition."
Sunday Independent, January 3rd, 1999.
